Settled criteria

If you are applying under the settled criteria, you will not need to provide any additional documents or evidence. Immigration New Zealand will use information we already have to check how long you have been in New Zealand.

Skilled criteria

If you are applying under the skilled criteria, you will also need to provide:

	Tick
Your job details — including the name and address of your employer.
Your hourly pay rate.
Employment agreement or a letter from your employer confirming your pay and hours.
A full bank statement showing salary payments or an Inland Revenue summary of income or payslips showing your current pay rate and pay rate on 29 September 2021.

Scarce criteria

If you are applying under the scarce criteria, you will also need to provide:

	Tick
Your job details (including the name and address of your employer) and which of the four 'scarce' lists your job is on.
Employment agreement or a letter from employer confirming your job and hours. This must show your current job as well as evidence of the job you held on 29 September 2021.
Evidence of provisional or full occupational registration in New Zealand if that is required for your job.
