

Streamline your business travel

About APEC

The Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) Forum was established in 1989 to promote free trade and economic growth throughout the Asia-Pacific region.

APEC is committed to achieving free and open trade and investment within the participating APEC economies by 2020. To assist in achieving this goal, the Business Mobility Group was formed in 1997 with the purpose of providing facilitation for business travellers in the participating APEC economies through the use of the APEC Business Travel Card (ABTC).

The APEC Business Travel Card

Time is precious when you travel overseas for business. Why wait around in queues?

The APEC Business Travel Card provides accredited business people with streamlined entry to economies participating in the APEC Business Travel Card Scheme.

The APEC Business Travel Card application is valid for five years from issue date of the first card.

Based on a unique electronic pre-clearance system, the card saves time and effort when travelling between the participating APEC economies.

Used in conjunction with your passport, the card simplifies pre-travel arrangements and makes business travel to participating countries more accessible.

Some of the key benefits are:

- express immigration clearance through designated APEC lanes on arrival and departure
- no need to apply for visas or entry permits
- multiple short term entry to participating economies

International travel with greater ease

The APEC Business Travel Card is valid for travel to:

- Australia
- Brunei Darussalam
- Canada*
- Chile
- China
- Chinese Taipei
- Hong Kong , China
- Indonesia
- Japan
- Korea
- Malaysia
- Mexico
- New Zealand
- Papua New Guinea
- Peru
- Philippines
- Russia
- Singapore
- Thailand
- United States of America*
- Vietnam

The United States and Canada are transitional members of the APEC Business Travel Card Scheme and only provide lanes for expedited travel at main international airports. Visas are still required for travel to these economies.*

With more economies joining the scheme each year, the card is an invaluable and affordable asset for any frequent business traveller.

Each country maintains its sovereign right to determine who will enter their economy and preserve existing conditions of entry.

The card does not replace a passport; cardholders still need to carry their passports when they travel.

Are you eligible to apply?

The APEC Business Travel Card is available to New Zealand business people engaged in the trade of goods, the provision of services or the conduct of investment activities, who:

- are New Zealand citizens with a valid New Zealand passport;
- need to travel frequently on short term visits within the APEC region; and
- have never been convicted of a criminal offence.

How to apply

Complete the application form, read and sign the declaration, attach the supporting document and send to:

When will I receive my APEC Business Travel Card?

The New Zealand part of the application process takes about 6 weeks. The pre-clearance requirements of the economies you select determine when your card will be issued.

It may be 3-6 months before an interim or a full APEC Business Travel Card is ready for sending to your postal address by standard post.

What can be provided as Supporting Documents?

Some examples of supporting documents are:

- Supporting letter from your employer
- Invoice from overseas supplier
- Contracts and agreements
- Invitation to overseas trade shows, fairs or exhibitions
- Any other third party documents which can identify you, your business and your need to travel for business related purposes.

It is the responsibility of the applicant to ensure the required documents are provided alongside the application.

Options for receiving an interim card

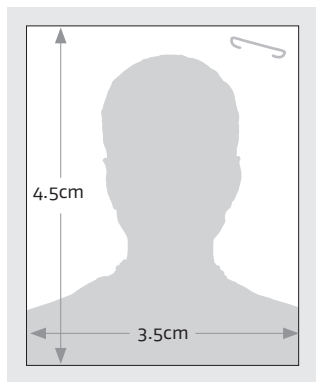

If you would like to receive an interim card, please select up to five economies for which you urgently require pre-clearance. An interim card will be issued when these economies approve your application. The five-year validity of your card will start from the issue of this interim card and a final card will be issued when all economies have made their decision.
