Transit Visa Application

Who should use this form?

Individuals or families who wish to apply for transit visas should use this form. You need to apply for a transit visa if you are intending to transit New Zealand and you are:

- Not from a visa free country, and
- Not from a transit visa waiver country, and
- You are not passing through New Zealand on your way to Australia.

To confirm whether you need to apply for a transit visa, see www.immigration.govt.nz.

What should you send with your application?

You must send the passport (the original document) of each person included in the application with your completed and signed form. You must also provide two passport-size photographs of each person, evidence of your travel arrangements, and a statement of the purpose of your visit to your destination country.

When you have completed the form, please use the checklist at the end to make sure you have sent all the documents and information we need.

We will process your application only when we receive all the information and documents we need. If you do not send all the required information, we will return your application.

Group transit visas

If you are a Chinese national and you will be transiting New Zealand with a group of Chinese nationals, you may apply for a group transit visa. As well as completing this form and providing the information listed above, your tour organiser or agent will need to complete the form Group Transit Application (INZ 1155) on behalf of the group.

Immigration Advisers Licensing Act 2007

Under the Immigration Advisers Licensing Act 2007 it is an offence to provide immigration advice without being licensed or exempt. If your immigration adviser is not licensed when they should be, Immigration New Zealand will return your application.

For more information and to view the register of licensed advisers, go to the Immigration Advisers Authority website www.iaa.govt.nz or email info@iaa.govt.nz.

Lawyers provide immigration advice and are exempt from licensing under the Immigration Advisers Licensing Act 2007. For more information and to view the register of immigration lawyers, go to the New Zealand Law Society website www.lawsociety.org.nz.

When filling in this form, please print clearly using CAPITAL LETTERS.

Important note: A transit visa holder may not apply for entry permission or any class or type of visa while in New Zealand during the transit period.

→ About the information you provide

Deciding whether you are eligible for a visa

Immigration New Zealand collects the information about you on this form to decide whether you are eligible for a transit visa.

Collecting the information is authorised by the Immigration Act 2009 and the Immigration Regulations made under that Act. You do not have to provide the information, but if you do not we are likely to decline your application.

Deciding whether you are eligible to board a flight to New Zealand

The information we collect may also be used to determine whether you are allowed to board a flight to New Zealand. We will not share your personal information with airline check-in agents; however, we will send a boarding message to the airline check-in agent based on the information you have provided in this form.

Immigration New Zealand may also share the information you have provided with other government agencies that are entitled to it by law, or with other agencies.

You are able to ask for the information we hold about you and have any of it corrected if you think it is necessary. The address of Immigration New Zealand is PO Box 1473, Wellington 6140, New Zealand. Do not send your application to this address.

Other documents we may need

Sometimes we may ask for additional documents or information so that we can consider it with this application.
