Military Visa Application

For members of a visiting force (including its civilian component) or crew members of any craft transporting such people.

→ Information about military visa applications

A military visa facilitates the movement of members of a visiting force (including members of the civilian component of the visiting force) as defined in the Visiting Forces Act 2004, or crew members of any craft transporting the visiting force to New Zealand, who are in New Zealand at the request or with consent of the Government of New Zealand.

If you are a member of a visiting force (including a member of its civilian component), or a crew member transporting such people to New Zealand, you do not need a visa to travel to New Zealand, but you are required to hold a military visa while in New Zealand. If you arrive in New Zealand on a military craft you will be deemed to hold this visa. If you arrive at an airport on a commercial craft you will apply for and may be granted this visa at the border or you may apply for a military visa prior to travel to New Zealand to facilitate your entry.

Your partner or other family members cannot apply on this application form. They must lodge separate applications for the type of visa they need.

Application requirements

You must provide evidence that you will be in New Zealand at the request or with the consent of the Government of New Zealand. This evidence may include but is not limited to original or certified copies of:

- a military movement order, or
- joining instruction for a course run by the New Zealand Defence Force, or
- other evidence provided by the New Zealand Defence Force.

How much does a military visa cost?

A military visa is free of charge.

Immigration Advisers Licensing Act 2007

Under the Immigration Advisers Licensing Act 2007 it is an offence to provide immigration advice without being licensed or exempt. If your immigration adviser is not licensed when they should be, Immigration New Zealand will return your application.

For more information and to view the register of licensed advisers, go to the Immigration Advisers Authority website www.iaa.govt.nz or email info@iaa.govt.nz.

Lawyers provide immigration advice and are exempt from licensing under the Immigration Advisers Licensing Act 2007. For more information and to view the register of immigration lawyers, go to the New Zealand Law Society website www.lawsociety.org.nz.

Where do you send your application and documents?

Applicants who are overseas: send your completed application form and documents to your nearest INZ office, New Zealand Embassy, or New Zealand High Commission. Applicants who are in New Zealand: send your completed application form and documents to your nearest INZ office. For full details see www.immigration.govt.nz/contactus.

Section D Declaration by applicant

I have provided true and correct answers to the questions in this form.

I agree to tell Immigration New Zealand about any changes to my circumstances that occur after making this application.

I agree to leave New Zealand before my visa expires. If I remain in New Zealand after my visa has expired, I may be liable for deportation.

I agree that if I am not entitled to free health care in New Zealand, I will pay for any health care or medical assistance I may require in New Zealand.

I understand that if I have received immigration advice from an immigration adviser and if that immigration adviser is not licensed under the Immigration Advisers Licensing Act 2007 when they should be, Immigration New Zealand (INZ) will refuse to accept my application.

I authorise Immigration New Zealand to make any necessary enquiries about information on this form so that they can:

- make a decision on this application
- answer enquiries about my immigration status once my application has been decided.

I authorise any agency that holds information (including personal information) related to those matters to disclose that information to Immigration New Zealand.
