

Performing Artists, Entertainers and Entertainment Industry Personnel Work Visa Application

Apply for your visa online – it's faster & easier

The fastest and easiest way to apply for a work visa is online. Once you have your documents prepared, it should take less than 15 minutes to complete the online application form. Your employer can help you complete the form, but they can't provide you with immigration advice.

To apply online, go to www.immigration.govt.nz/work

About this form

This application form is for performing artists, entertainers, film and video production crew, and associated support personnel, who intend to engage in any form of private or public performance in New Zealand or work on any entertainment production in New Zealand.

This form is divided into two parts. You (the applicant) must complete the Work Visa Application (sections A to I) and your employer/production company/promoter must complete the Supplementary Form (sections J to L). Guides to completing both the application form and the supplementary form are located after each form.

You must also provide an additional copy of the supplementary form along with supporting documentation to the relevant professional association, union or guild unless your contract in New Zealand:

- is for 14 days or less, or
- will be undertaken on an official co-production, or
- is with a company that holds entertainment industry accreditation.

Where do you send your application and documents?

Applicants who are overseas

Send your completed application form and documents to your nearest Immigration New Zealand office, New Zealand Embassy, or New Zealand High Commission.

Applicants who are in New Zealand

Send your completed application form and documents to your nearest Immigration New Zealand office.

For office addresses, see www.immigration.govt.nz/contactus.

Do you need a visa to work in New Zealand?

You do not need a work visa to work in New Zealand if one of the following applies to you.

- You are a New Zealand citizen.
- You hold a New Zealand residence class visa.
- You hold a special temporary (diplomatic, consular or official) visa.
- You hold a military visa.

If you are an Australian citizen or the holder of a current Australian permanent residence visa or a current Australian resident return visa, you do not need a visa to travel to New Zealand. You must apply for a resident visa on arrival. You will do this by completing an arrival card on the aircraft/ship on your way to New Zealand and presenting it to an immigration officer after you arrive.

What is a visa and what does it allow?

A work visa allows you to work in New Zealand for a limited amount of time.

You can apply for a work visa before travelling to New Zealand. A work visa granted offshore will allow you to travel to the New Zealand border. When you arrive, an immigration officer will check that you still meet the criteria under which your visa was granted. If so, you will be granted entry permission to work in New Zealand.

You can also apply for a work visa once you are already in New Zealand. Whether you apply onshore or offshore, your work visa may include travel conditions allowing a single entry (valid for one journey) or multiple entry (valid for more than one journey).

A work visa may be endorsed in your passport or may be granted electronically, in which case you need to have and keep a printed copy.

What is on a work visa?

A work visa will state the expiry date of your visa, the expiry date of your travel conditions (if you have any), and the conditions of your visa. The conditions may include:

- the type of employment
- the employer's name
- where in New Zealand you can work.

How long can you stay and work in New Zealand?

Some work instructions specify the duration that visas can be granted for, others are linked to the duration of your offer of employment.

If your work visa is nearing expiry, you can apply for a further visa. There is no limit on the number of further visas you may obtain, however the requirements of the instructions that you apply under must continue to be met.

How much does a work visa cost?

You need to pay an application fee and immigration levy when you lodge your application unless you are not required to do so.

For up-to-date information about fees:

- see our Fees Guide (INZ 1028)
- see our website
www.immigration.govt.nz/fees
- contact your nearest Immigration New Zealand office.

Our New Zealand offices do not accept cash. Most of our offices outside New Zealand do not accept cash.

What rules must employers meet?

All employers* who want to employ foreign workers or students to work in New Zealand must comply with relevant employment and immigration law. Generally, this includes:

- paying employees no less than the appropriate adult or youth minimum wage or other contracted industry standard
- meeting holiday and special leave requirements or other minimum statutory criteria, eg occupational safety and health obligations

* An employer is a person who employs or engages a person to do work, whether under a contract of service (employee/employer relationship) or a contract for service (contractor).

- only employing people who have authority to work in New Zealand.

Under some instructions, the rules may be slightly different.

An employer may not employ a person who holds a temporary visa or limited visa to provide commercial sexual services.

VisaView

It is an offence for an employer to employ a person who is not entitled to work for them in New Zealand. It is also an offence for an education provider to allow a person to undertake a course of study if that person is not entitled to do so.

VisaView is an online enquiry system that allows registered employers and education providers to check whether a person who is not a New Zealand citizen can work or study in New Zealand for them.

If you believe that an employer or education provider has been given the wrong information via VisaView you may contact the Immigration Contact Centre (0508 558 855) to request correction of that information.

Will you be eligible for publicly funded health care in New Zealand?

The Ministry of Health determines eligibility for publicly funded health care in New Zealand. To see if you are eligible visit the Ministry of Health website www.moh.govt.nz/eligibility.

People covered by New Zealand's reciprocal health agreements with Australia and the United Kingdom are entitled to publicly funded health care for immediately necessary medical treatment only.

If you seek health care when you are in New Zealand you should carry your passport so that health providers can check whether you are eligible for publicly funded health care. We strongly recommend that you arrange comprehensive health insurance for your stay in New Zealand.

Immigration Advisers Licensing Act 2007

Under the Immigration Advisers Licensing Act 2007 it is an offence to provide immigration advice without being licensed or exempt. If your immigration adviser is not licensed when they should be, Immigration New Zealand will return your application.

Completing Section B Contact details

B6 An adviser can be any person who assists you with your application. It could be a lawyer, immigration adviser, translator, friend or family member.

Completing Section C Your health

You may need to provide us with a General Medical Certificate and Chest X-ray Certificate to show that you meet our acceptable standard of health. What you must provide depends on:

- whether you have recently provided a General Medical Certificate and Chest X-ray Certificate with another application
- how long you intend to stay in New Zealand
- what countries you have previously lived in or visited.

Note that children under 11 years of age and pregnant women are not required to have an X-ray, unless a special report is needed.

If you are already in New Zealand, and you are applying for a further visa, you need to include the time you have already spent in New Zealand, as well as the time you intend to stay here, to decide whether or not you need to complete a medical certificate.

Example You have been in New Zealand on a temporary visa for eleven months, and you wish to apply for a work visa for six months. This will mean a stay in New Zealand of more than 12 months in total.

C5 If you intend to give birth in New Zealand please indicate how the cost of maternity health services will be paid for and provide the relevant evidence.

If you are pregnant and intending to give birth in New Zealand we need to be sure that you have a bona fide reason for being in New Zealand. We also need to ensure that you are either eligible for publicly funded maternity health services or able to meet the costs of maternity health services (evidence of at least NZ$9,000 is required) through personal funds or sponsorship.

To find out if you are eligible for publicly funded maternity services, you may check your eligibility through the Ministry of Health at www.health.govt.nz which provides comprehensive information on eligibility for publicly funded health and disability services. Alternatively you may be able to establish whether you are eligible by checking our leaflet Health Requirements (INZ 1121). You should attach evidence that you meet the criteria to be eligible for publicly funded maternity services if the evidence is not already available to us (for example – evidence of partnership or your partner’s eligibility for publicly funded health services).

If you are not eligible for publicly funded maternity health services you will need to provide evidence that you have sufficient funds to pay for the cost of maternity health services.

Acceptable evidence of your funds includes:

- bank statements in your name
- bank drafts
- recognised credit cards with sufficient credit available, and
- travellers' cheques.

You must not send cash or original evidence of funds. Funds to cover the cost of maternity health services must be additional to the funds you hold to support yourself in New Zealand and to purchase an outward ticket.

Alternatively you may provide evidence of sponsorship which meets our sponsorship requirements. Your sponsor must complete the Sponsorship Form for Temporary Entry (INZ 1025).

C6 Will you be in New Zealand for more than six months?

If you will be in New Zealand for less than six months, you do not have to provide a medical certificate or chest X-ray certificate. If you will be in New Zealand for longer than six months, you may have to provide a medical certificate and/or chest X-ray certificate, depending on your answers to C7 and C8.

C7 You must provide a medical certificate and a chest X-ray certificate

If you will be in New Zealand for more than 12 months in total, including any time you have already spent in New Zealand, you must provide a General Medical Certificate (INZ 1007) and a Chest X-ray Certificate (INZ 1096). The only exception to this is if you have provided a medical certificate and a chest X-ray certificate with a previous visa application, and those certificates were dated less than 36 months ago when you lodge your current visa application.

C8 You must provide a Chest X-ray Certificate only

You must provide a Chest X-ray Certificate only if you will be in New Zealand for between six and 12 months, and you are either from, or have spent more than three months visiting, a place that is outside the list below of countries, areas and territories with a low incidence of tuberculosis (TB). The only exception to this is if you have provided a Chest X-ray Certificate with a previous visa application, and that certificate was dated less than 36 months ago when you lodge your current visa application. However, if you have spent six consecutive months in a country not on the list below since you provided your last Chest X-ray Certificate, you will need to provide a new one.

Police certificates you must provide

You may need to provide us with police certificates to show that you are of good character and do not pose a potential security risk. Police certificates that are older than six months from the date of issue at lodgement of any application will NOT be accepted.

D4 Police certificates you must provide

↓ If you are applying for a work to residence visa under the accredited employer, long term skills shortage list or arts, sport and culture instructions, you must provide police certificates.

D5 If you are applying for any other type of visa and you intend to stay in New Zealand for 24 months or longer, you must provide a police certificate from your country of citizenship and any country you have lived in for five years or more since you turned 17. The only exception to this is if you have provided police certificates with a previous visa application, and that certificate was issued less than 24 months ago when you lodge your current visa application, or if you are younger than 17. A. The applicant is of international distinction or merit, or particular ethnic significance, or is manifestly essential to the presentation or production.

Please state how this has been met (and provide evidence where necessary), for example:

Please state how this has been met with reference to the specific employment of the applicant, for example:

- creating training opportunities for New Zealanders
- the wider economic benefits of the production, for example approximate spend in New Zealand, additional jobs created, and how the employment will help grow the industry

Note: You must show that these wider benefits relate specifically to the applicant's employment and would not arise without that employment.

C. You have given appropriate consideration to employing available New Zealand entertainers or professionals.

Evidence can include:

- Actors: evidence of a bona fide casting round, including the casting brief, the number of New Zealand actors auditioned, names of agencies used, and the reason why the international actor is preferred. If there was no casting round then you need to explain why not.
